Sixty Seniors Honored For High Performance

Sixty seniors of the Grossmont Union High School District have been honored for their high performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test given last spring.

Each student received a formal letter of commendation signed by his principal and the president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

To increase their opportunities to obtain financial assistance if they need it, the Merit Corporation sends the names, home addresses and test scores of all commended students to the two colleges they indicated as their preferred choices at the time they took the qualifying test.

Other special services are also performed by NMSC in an effort to increase the scholarship opportunities of commended students and semifinalists.

Seniors from Mt. Miguel high school who have received letters of commendation include James Arsenault, Curtis Cole, Stanley Carovano, Mike Howard, Don Howarth, Patrick Manley, Lorraine Plummer and Michael G. Treinen.

About 32,000 students throughout the country are being awarded Letters of Commendation in recognition of their outstanding performance on the qualifying test.

Semifinalists and commended students together constitute about two per cent of all high school seniors.

The annual Merit Scholarship competition is open to all high schools in the United States and its territories. There are more than 4,000 Merit Scholars currently enrolled in about 400 colleges and universities. Nearly 7,500 Merit Scholars have been appointed to date.

Bond, Tax Election Polling Places Cited

All but ten of 64 polling places for the Grossmont High School District special October 29 election will be in elementary and secondary schools throughout the Grossmont District.

Voters of the ten districts will decide on a bond issue for a new school in Santee and renewal of the present $1.50 tax-limit. Cajon Valley Elementary District has two similar measures on the special ballot.

Notice of the election has been mailed to each District voter by the San Diego County Registrar of Voters, and the notice also tells each voter where his polling place is. Two community halls, one church, three residences, and four garages have been designated as polling places in this election.

Mother Killed On New Freeway

A 37-year-old mother was killed Thursday and four injured in a two-car collision on the new South Bay Freeway at the Sweetwater rd. intersection.

Killed in the accident was Mrs. Juanita Joyce Kiner, 459 F. st., Chula Vista, who was a passenger in a jeep driven by her husband, Roy.

The accident occurred as the east-bound Kiner jeep was struck in the intersection by a northbound car driven by Mrs. Maud Lancaster, 80, of 1124 Loma ave., Coronado.

Mrs. Kiner was thrown to the pavement when the jeep flipped on its roof. Injured were Mrs. Kiner's daughter, Terry Ellerson, 16, who was in serious condition at Paradise Valley Hospital; Thomas Brown, 18, and his wife, Carol, of 361 Alpine ave.; and Dale Butterfield, 21, of 753 First ave., all of Chula Vista.

Terry Ellerson suffered a compound fracture of her right leg, a possible fractured spine and cuts and bruises.

District Studies Recreation Costs

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — A recreation program next summer is being explored for the newly-formed Spring Valley Recreation District this week following an organizational meeting Monday night.

Frank Mosher was named acting chairman of the districts's advisory committee to the Board of Supervisors, who will operate the districts's affairs.

Cletus W. Gardner, county parks and recreation director, was instructed to make a study of the cost of a summer program using school facilities where available.

A loan of county funds to the district will be necessary, because the new district will not receive any tax revenues until November of 1964.

Gardner said that it was too early to predict how much money would be necessary for the program. Further consultation with the district advisory committee will be necessary before exact costs can be set.

"It will depend a great deal upon how extensive a program is planned," said Gardner.

The preliminary study will be ready in about one month, Gardner said.

25 Per Cent Landowners Must Sign

Volunteers will begin circulating petitions in Lemon Grove this weekend for an election that will determine the future status of the community, Frank Armstrong, local attorney, said this week.

The petitions, which will be submitted to the County Board of Supervisors when completed, must be signed by 25 per cent of the residents who own 25 per cent of the assessed valuation of the land in the proposed incorporation, Armstrong explained.

"We want people to sign the petitions whether they are in favor of incorporation or completely opposed to it," Ray Brehm, a member of the Men's Club incorporation committee remarked. "Voters should have the chance to decide what kind of government they want to serve them."

Local residents who want to volunteer to circulate petitions can do so by calling Frank Armstrong at 465-4344, or Ray Brehm at 465-6200.

Area Engulfs 1,300 Acres, 25,000 People

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — The borders of the proposed City of Lemon Grove were approved Monday by the County Boundary Commission.

Rudolph Benitez, commission engineer, recommended approval of the incoporation proposal for the area containing some 3,100 acres and 25,000 people.

The City of San Diego city limits will form the boundary on the west and south. The city of La Mesa will form the northern boundaries. The proposed new City of Spring Valley will share a common border along Sweetwater rd., Blossom ln. and Washington st. south to the San Diego limits.

Benitez said the only problem encountered was along 69th st. where one-half of the street is within the San Diego city limits and the other half in the county. He recommended that San Diego include the entire street within its boundaries.

Robert M. Berrey, assistant county counsel, advised that if Lemon Grove does succeed in incorporating, the new city could sit down and negotiate the matter with San Diego.

The unincoporated area of Rolando, which had been mention-

Heglands Publish Book on Government 'Here and Now'

Former state assemblyman Sheridan Hegland, now teaching part-time at Grossmont College, has collaborated with his wife, Edwina, an a political source book tailored to San Diego area students.

The book, A State of Excitement, was published this week by the Heglands. in an unusual copyright arrangement, the authors have specifically exempted the Grossmont Union High School District from the need to require written permission to reproduce the material in the book.

The lively 211-page book is described by the authors as "simply a collection of oddments; projects and complex, safe and controversial," with stress on the here and now.

"The heart of the study of government," say the Heglands in their introduction, "is in the constantly shifting process of application . . . the study of government is a study of flux."

Among the topics covered in A State of Excitement, always from either or both state and San Diego County angles, are groups and lobbying; representation and districting; campaigns and elections; legislative process; local districts; cities and counties; and local-state cooperation. The book is replete with graphics, maps and tables.

In a preface to the Heglands' book, Leon Lessinger, assistant superintendent of the Grossmont Union High School District, comments, "Most civics programs in the secondary schools are weak in their provision for the learning of local and state government."

Baptist Church Gains Okay To Meet in School

The Lemon Grove School Board Monday night gave a "conditional four weeks" approval to a request for use of the San Miguel multi-purpose room as a meeting place for the Brooklyn Heights Baptist church.

The Board instructed School District Superintendent Byron Netzley to ask for a clarification of the State Law recently enacted by which churches may use school facilities on a "temporary" basis. The Board was undecided as to the length of time "temporary" meant to the lawmakers.

The Board also stated its support for the Grossmont High School District tax and Bond issue to be voted on October 29.

Architect Clyde Hufbauer, who is designing four new classrooms for San Altos school, set February as bid date and September completion date for the expansion project.

Baker Who Banks Once a Week Robbed of $535

Cash totaling $538 was stolen Friday from the home of Paul A. Roehm, 7562 Roosevelt, Lemon Grove. Roehm, who owns a bakery in downtown San Diego, takes his money home every night after work and makes a bank deposit on Monday's only.

Four $20 bills were stolen from the bedroom of Roehm's son; four white bags containing $80-$100 each were taken from Roehm's bedroom; and $18 in dime and nickle rolls and $40 in five dollar bills also were reported stolen.

Tire Explodes

Jake W. Urschel, a 32-year-old truck driver from Scottsdale, Arizona was thrown five feet in the air Sunday.

Urschell was tapping on the 900X20 tire of his truck at 7195 Broadway when it exploded hurling him against the truck and injured his shoulder and lacerated his right knee.

He had taken the tire off the truck when the safety rim disengaged releasing about 90 lbs. of air. Urschel was taken to Grossmont hospital.

Lawmakers Hear Lobbyists, Says Senator Schrade

A return of cross filing in California will help break up power and gang politics in Sacramento, State Senator Jack Schrade told the Men's Club Friday.

He called on citizens to take an active part in groups and associations taking positions on State Bills. "Lobbyists outnumber you", he said recalling that 565 lobbyists are registered. "We lawmakers are not 'whiz kids' but each of you is an expert in your own field. Lobbyists make their position known to us. (To combat them . .) you've got to form groups louder than the lobbyists," he said.

Schrade called for more elected officials and less appointees. "We've also got to reduce the power of state agency appointees," he said.

He said the state welfare program is "outrageous. "We spend $60 millions on welfare and $25 millions on schools. We have third generation welfare families. These people make more money by not working. We've got to bring welfare back to county level for better control and only aid those who deserve it," he added.

Schrade painted a brilliant economic future for S.D. area and spelled out the coming port activity; commercial and sport fishing industry; tourism and better roads and highways ("this is a must") as part of the bright picture.

Schrade was introduced by Bob Howell, local tax expert. Friday's program will be an exchange professor, Jack E. Clark who teaches English and History at Grossmont Junior College.

He is on exchange from Haywood University at Victoria, Australia according to John Bridger, program chairman.

The Men's Club meets every Friday at Michael's at noon and is open to the male public.

Business Outlook Good Here Says C.C. President

Business outlook in the Lemon Grove area "holds much promise for the immediate future," according to Sam Pernicano, president of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce.

He told the Merchants Division of the Chamber Tuesday that at least three former Lemon Grove business people were returning to business here, presumably due to the encouraging outlook of the business prospects. He listed the three as a men's shop, a ladies' wear firm and a health food store.

"Many of the larger investors see this general area as the prime business community of the future," Pernicano said. "Bankers in particular like this area because of the road network with its hub near Jamacha at Sweetwater roads will make us more accessible to the rest of the east county than any other area.

"We will be less minutes from anywhere in the east county than any other community, with the possible exception being the shopping centers at the crossroads."

Planners Reverse on Mobile Home Zoning

SAN DIEGO (CNS)— The County Planning Commission reversed itself Friday on a proposed rezoning for a mobile home park on the north shore of Sweetwater Lake.

The commission sent the proposal of Somam Assocs. to rezone 17.5 acres on the west side of Lakeview from R-1-A to R-4 to the County Board of Supervisors without any recommendation.

The commission had earlier indicated a willingness to approve the rezoning if sewer and road easement problems could be worked out.

The difference of opinion that deadlocked the commission developed after the neighbors appeared Friday to protest the proposal.

Supervisors Split on New Leash Law

SAN DIEGO (CNS) - A leash will be required for all dogs in all public areas of the county as soon as a new amendment to the dog control ordinance goes into effect next month.

The County Board of Supervisors approved the amendment Tuesday by a 3-2 split vote. The exiting ordinance requires a leash only in zoned areas.

Chairman Robert C. Cozens, who represents the largest rural area of the county, and Supervisor Robert C. Dent, who represents a portion of the City of San Diego, opposed the change.

Cozens said the new change would force youngsters walking down the road with their dogs to be in violation of the law.

"I think we place too many restriction on people in rural area," he said, adding, "I think most people move to the country to get away from such restrictions."

Dr. E. R. Quortrup, livestock inspector, said such a law would have assisted his office during the recent rabies scare, because no attempt is made at animal control in areas where leash law is not in effect.

The DIMMER VIEW

by MAX GOODWIN

Now is the (UCSF) Hour

The UCSF people asked us to share our editorial column with them. Because we are in agreement with their program, we present this message from their chairman, J. A. Davis.

"Now is the hour!"

This is the vital message from John A. Davis, Heartland area chairman for the United Community Services Fund campaign covering business, professional, and employed people of our community.

Davis is urging a rapid windup of UCS Fund campaigns in business, industry and the professional fields now, so that the final residential stage of the campaign can be started and completed with the county-wide goal of $4,000,000 realized.

Davis emphasized that the need is great to meet the $4,000,000 goal which includes Heartland's share of $95,000. This includes Lemon Grove and Spring Valley.

"If this goal is met, there will be no additional fund drives needed by the 79 member agencies of United Community Services Fund. It is much easier this way,"

"Also, it's a matter of pride."

Every family in Lemon Grove and Spring Valley who has a Boy Scout (and there are some 2,082), or a Camp Fire Girl (and we have about 1000 of these young girls), or a Girl Scout (of whom we have 3,200), ih dependent upon the money raised by USC Fund campaign for continuation of these activities.

Character-building youth agencies are only a part of the total UCS Fund service picture in our area.

An agency, of which there are 79 under sponsorship of UCS Fund, doesn't have to have an office in Lemon Grove or Spring Valley in order to serve our citizens. Boys' and Girls' Aid Society, for example, provided 1,285 days' of care for Lemon Grove families and the Legal Aid Society provided services to almost 400 residents.

However, two USC Fund agencies with officers in adjoining communities offer a particular service to our community and we must make sure that their programs too are not curtailed due to lack of funds.

They are the Visiting Nurse Association which made more than 3,000 visits into the homes of Lemon Grove and Spring Valley residents, and the American Red Cross which reports more than 5000 persons served.

Your business or professional contribution now will help to put us over the top in the "4 million for '64" San Diego countywide goal.

Let's do it now!

Team Teaching Is 'In'

Here is another in a series of articles on education as it affects your school system. The material is authoritative because it is supplied by the California Education News Service.

The Winds of change and experimentation are blowing through California education as through other areas of society. Our schools, too, seek new and better ways of getting the job done, the job in this case being to prepare millions of young people for life in tomorrow's uncertain world.

One of the most talked-about experiments is team teaching. Numerous California schools are trying it.

Team teaching takes a number of different forms, but the basic idea is the same: Two or more teachers are given the responsibility, working and planning together, for all or a substantial part of the instruction of a given group of students. This involves a fundamental reorganization of teaching personnel, with the aim of improving instruction through cooperative team planning and by utilizing each teacher's special competency.

In the typical elementary school as presently set up, each

Also to be read are these lines from "Sciense and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 202): "The scientific unity which exists between God and man must be wrought out in life-practice, and God's will must be universally done."

Mr. Willian Whitley's fifth grade class won first place in the membership drive, with Mrs. Altamura's third grade second. Mrs. Loy Holmquists fifth grade class had the highest number of memberships.

Highlight of the drive was a potluck dinner in the school cafeteria, the first PTA meeting of the new school year.

Mrs. Pantazopolous used a theme of animals boarding Noah's Ark, two by two, to depict parents going to PTA meetings. A huge poster carried out the theme with each class being a different animal.

WHAT'S DOING

Streeter King, your telephone manager in Lemon Grove.

"Buon giorno, studenti." That's a greeting eighth graders hear over the telephone twice a week in Grenada, California. This "good morning" begins a long distance Italian lesson taught by a teacher forty miles away. Speakerphones (telephones with a separate speaker and microphone), let the entire class and teacher talk back and forth with each other.

This use of the phone in teaching has attracted wide attention.

One tired-of-waiting soldier put a sign in a phone booth near an Army camp in Honolulu that read: "Limit your calls to four girls."

This was once one of our company trucks. And, as some may recall, a few things about this kind of truck made driving an experience. (For instance, the top speed was barely more than twenty miles per hour.) But, despite all shortcomings, driving in those days was relatively safe because of low speeds and the lack of traffic. With today's high speeds and crowded streets and highways, however, safety is a bigger problem. That's why all telephone drivers attend "Defensive Driving" schools, learning to stop accidents before they happen.

One item that many people find useful is the Bell Chime. Here a service representative shows a customer how to set it for a pleasant chime, a loud bell or the familiar telephone ring. LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

This is in reference to your "Dimmer View" column of two weeks ago regarding Postal Inspections. We hope by this letter to set the record straight and give the people of Lemon Grove and the east county the true facts of your mis-informed article.

To list some of your mistakes the letter carriers in Lemon Grove became unionized in 1948, not this last year.

We have no power in our local union to change "Route Inspections". That is covered very specifically in our Postal Manual.

Postal supervisors have other work to do instead of spying or following a postman on his rounds. This work should be and is supposed to be done by a Postal Inspector. Then too, you accuse us of visiting saloons, taking a number of coffee breaks, and chatting with pretty "Mabel" on the corner. Tell us, what carrier would do any of these three things to jeopardize his job? We letter carriers take pride in our work and we feel very strongly that your article was a slanderous accusation which reflects against us, and our families.

Then too, you accuse our local union of being able to push through rules against the Post Office Department. Mr. Goodwin, we have no such power!

You say that the new rules concerning investigations require a supervisor to inform the man on the route that an inspection is going to be held. Also that it must be done in writing and submitted to the carrier a day in advance. The truth is, an inspection (or investigation) is done only as a last resort. It is not done in writing and does not have to be a day in advance.

To sum this all up, it appears that your spies are very misinformed about postal procedures. We hope, after this, that you check your in formation more thoroughly before it is put into print.

ED'S NOTE:

Excerpt from Post Office Bureau of Operations Bulletin dated July 12, 1963, signed M. E. Chapin:

"Carriers will be notified in advance whenever supervisors expect to be conducting: street observation, service inquires, investigation of complaints.

"Supervisors will schedule the activities enumerated above and inform carriers of the delivery area and approximate period of time involved."

Packrat Should Unpack

Dear Editor:

If I may, I should like to take this means of saying that incontestable statistics prove men have the habits of packrats.

They clutter their closets and glut their garages. They are attracted to attics with the result that the garrets garner a harvest of suits they'll never wear, outmoded furniture, appliances they'll never mend, equipment they'll never use, books they'll never read, pictures they'll never look at again, tricycles they gave up as children, and cribs the kids have outgrown.

Besides, our salvage program helps salvage men.

If the ladies will call the Salvation Army Thrift Store in Lemon Grove, at HO 9-9384, a radio-dispatched Red Shield truck will pick up their discards.

Sincerely yours,
John L. Kostanzer

Halloween Dress Tips for Parents

It's that time of year again when children of all ages are called on to decide whether they want to be scary, pretty, funny, or just plain ugly.

While the deciding is going on, here are a few things to think about before you buy your child a halloween costume, according to local PTA officers.

Don't foist off on your child the Halloween costume you didn't have when you were young. You may have been the "ghost" or "skeleton" type. He may be scared to death of both and prefer to be a rabbit or a pirate. The choice should be his.

Remember you're not dressing him to be presented at court. No matter what it says on the label, buy the costume so that it's roomy. Oct. 31 can be cold and no youngster wants to spoil the effect by wearing a heavy jacket over his costume. The costume should be big enough so he can wear it over his outside clothes.

Make sure any mask your child wears allows him plenty of eye room. If the holes for his eyes are too small, his scope of vision will be limited dangerously. Try masks on yourself before buying.

Be especially careful in selecting color. Will the costume show up in the dark? This is of paramount importance considering that most "trick or treating" is done after dark. And even the most careful youngster may forget basic safety rules in the excitement of Halloween.

Remember manufacturers build safety features into their costumes — flame retardant fabrics, easy to spot colors, wide-eyes masks. Homemade costumes may prove to be false economy.

Social Security Question Box

QUESTION — I am receiving widow's benefits. I have a chance to go to work starting next month. Do I have to give up my benefit each month if I earn over $100?

ANSWER—If you do not earn over $1200 in a calendar year, you don't have to give up any benefit even though you earn over $100 in some months. If you do earn over $1200 in the year, it will depend on how much over that amount you earned and in what months you work.

ANSWER—They might be able to. You should have your sister get in touch with the Social Security Administration office.

classroom is a self-contained unit. One teacher is responsible for all or nearly all of the day's teaching and activities. Under a team-teaching plan, thte approach might be something like this:

Four teachers could form a team to work with about 115 children, approximately the total of their four classroom enrollments. One teacher might have a special talent for science and arithmetic. Another's forte might be language arts. A third might specialize in social studies, a fourth in creative arts. A single child thus would receive instruction not from just one teacher during a school day, but four. The teachers, for their part, would be able to concentrate on certain subject areas and handle them with increased skill instead of spreading thin over a variety of subjects. And parents would be largely spared the familiar apprehension as to whether Johnny will draw a "'good" teacher or a "poor" one next year, his whole year's instruction depending on that one person.

In the high schools, the approach would be somewhat different. Teaching teams might be organized around a single subject or within a subject area. For example, team-teaching has been developed for freshman English. It could involve as many as four teachers, specializing respectively in literature, speech, developmental reading and the mechanics of English — word study, spelling and the like.

The team teaching idea is only beginning to catch on. But a good many school leaders — in California and elsewhere — already agree that it offers one of the most important areas for experimentation in the constant search for ways to improve American education.

The Truth Shall Rise . . .

"Truth crushed to earth shall rise again," said William Cullen Bryant, an American poet who was also a pretty fair editor.

Rising all along the New Frontier this week, according to the editors of the Republican Congressional Newsletter, were verities crushed underfoot by JKF while and since he scrambled for the Presidency.

In April this year the president of the American Newspaper Publishers Association called upon the New Frontier for "authoritative and clear-cut assurance that there is no place on its program for the use of a lie as an instrument of national policy."

That newsmen should have to call upon the President to quit lying is simply amazing. Yet, we can examine the facts to see whether or not such a request is justified.

Before the 1960 election, Mr. Kennedy charged that there existed a serious "missile gap". It disappeared right after the election.

He referred to 17 million Americans he claimed went to bed hungry and these suddenly became well-fed and prosperous when he took office.

During the campaign, Candidate Kennedy starred in a TV film clip with an elderly Kentucky man who JFK said had used his life savings of around $900 to pay for treatment of a hip injury. Kennedy ended the program with a plea for a compulsory Social Security medical care program. Later, the man revealed that he (1) had a private health insurance plan; (2) had spent only $80 of his own on treatment (it would have been less had he not insisted on a private hospital room); and (3) had told Mr. Kennedy about his private insurance before but had been to not to say anything about it. The film was shown widely on TV during the campaign.

On Nov. 4, 1960, at Roanoke, Va. Candidate Kennedy charged the previous administration with adding 106,000 persons to the payroll during Eisenhower's eight years in office. Actually, there had been a reduction of 254,374. JFK had misrepresented the total by 360,374.

In May, 1962, the President described for a Madison Square Garden Medicare rally the plight of a Mass. Congressman whose salary of $22,500 was insufficient to send his daughter to school because his father's medical bills ate up so much of his income. No one, one even the press, could find a Congressman—from Massachusetts or anywhere else — who matched JFK's description.

On Aug. 1, 1962, defending the nation's economy under his administration, the President told a press conference that the Standard and Poor level of stock prices was "about 5 points above what it was when I took office." Actually, S&P average on Jan. 20, 1961 was 59.96. On Aug. 2, 1962, the day following his press conference, it was 57.98 — about two points down, not five points up.

The President also said corporate profits had risen about $10 billion to $50 billion between the time he took office and Aug. 1, 1962. The fact is that the increase was from $45.6 billion to $50.4, a rise of less than $5 billion, not $10 billion.

COLLEGE ENDORSES TAX, BOND ELECTION

The Grossomnt College Faculty Association has unanimously voted to support the Grossmont Union High School District bond election on October 29 to build new a high school in Santee.

In addition, the college newspaper, "G", is running an editorial backing the bonds.

"If the voters who supported Grossmont College let the citizens of Santee down by not voting for the bonds for the new high school it will be a low blow," the editorial remarks.

Voters in Santee supported the Grossmont College bonds better than three to one. A new high school is needed in Santee to ease overcrowding at El Capitan high school, which is threatened by double sessions.

LAW IN ACTION

UNLAWFUL SEARCH

Suppose your client is having a friendly Saturday night poker game with some of his friends when he hears a knock on the door. He opens it to find two policemen there.

"We hear there's gambling going on here," one of them says, "We'll have to come in and look around."

Your client replies, "Do you have a search warrant?"

The other officer answers, "We don't need one, we're the law. We know there is a game going on here."

Though your client protests they push in, seize the cards, poker chips, and table stakes. They haul your clients and his friends off in the paddy wagon.

Now, by gambling your client broke a California law. But as his lawyer you tell him, the officers were also breaking a law. For centuries the rule has been that no one could enter your house without a search warrant, issued for probable cause on oath, or evidence of a crime being committed.

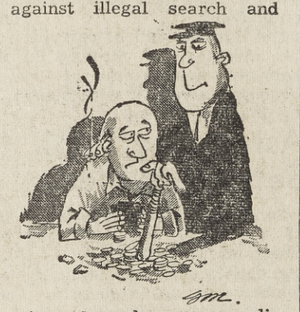
Had your client allowed the officers in, their seizure of the evidence might well have been lawful. But he objected and they may have had no right to force their way in. And so you as his lawyer object to, and the court will not permit, illegally seized evidence to be used against your client.

What does one do if he is arrested? No matter what crime your client is accused of, or how guilty he might be, he has rights under California law.

Among these are:

1. His right against self-incrimination; he does not need to answer the questions of authorities about himself and his acts. No one can make him legally testify against himself. (The Fifth Amendment) Nor can he be made to produce papers, documents, or other evidence which would tend to incriminate him.

2. As we have already seen, the police cannot seize evidence without a search warrant, probable cause, or your consent to search the premises. In California the rules against illegal search and seizure have become complicated of late and results depend on the particular facts of the case. Still the prosecution cannot use evidence seized unlawfully.



Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

The NFL's major goals are personal satisfaction, experience and more trophies for Helix's display case.

"The Highlanders will participate in more than 10 speech tournaments all over the state," Miss Sharon Laschinski, speech teacher and debate coach, said.

Griffin Gridders Roust Riverside in 41-13 Game

By Norman Hutsell
Sports Publicist

It is easy to overlook the defense when the offense gains 457 yards and scores 41 points.

However, Grossmont College football coach Jim Erkenbeck points out that the Griffin's 41-13 romp Saturday night over once-beaten Riverside City College could have very well been a shutout as the only two Tiger touchdowns were the result of offensive mistakes.

The offense gave up a 65 yard punt return by Reverside's Charlie Holmes, and a pass interception which led to a score by Ted Warren of the Tigers for the only serious Riverside thrusts of the night. Otherwise the Griffin's were almost perfect on moving the ball successfully.

Russ Eckhardt, the Griffin's speed merchant who has been clocked at 09.7 in the century, overshadowed a fine Grossmont team effort as he broke loose for five touchdowns and a rushing total of 180 yards enroute to setting numerous Griffin records.

The former Granite Hills two-sport star, left the Riverside fans and club thinking a whirlwind had invaded the place as he displayed almost phenomenal ability to outleg opponents who had the angle on him.

Mike Huse started at quarterback for the Griffins and proved to be the sparkplug that the thrice-beaten ball club needed as he completed 9 out of 19 passes for 105 yards.

Huse had been playing behind the Griffs' George Engle. Engle came in late in the third quarter to engineer a drive which carried 58 yards in 8 plays for a score with Engle keeping on a two yard run for the paydirt.

The Griffins will be pointing for Orange Coast this weekend as the local travel to Costa Mesa to meet the unbeaten Eastern Conference leaders.

Chargers To Meet Chiefs in Kansas

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — In what may well determine the American Football League's eventual Western Division champion for the 1963 season, the San Diego Chargers and the Kansas City Chiefs do battle in Municipal Stadium October 20. Kickoff is scheduled for 12:30 p.m.

ABC Television will beam the game throughout the Pacific Daylight, Central Standard and Mountain Stardard Time Zone, while the Chargers' radio network (KFMB locally) will air the action with Lyle Bond and Lute Mason describing the play.

San Diego currently heads the Western Division with a 4-1 record, defeating Buffalo, Boston, Kansas City and New York with a loss to Denver, while KC is 2-2-1, having beaten Denver and Houston, tied and lost to Buffalo and bowed to the Chargers.

Over all, the Chargers hold an 8-2 advantage over the Chiefs. This includes three pre-season decisions. In a league encounter Sept. 29 in San Diego, the Chargers came out on top, 24-10, behind an outstanding defensive effort.

Audubon Society Slates Wildlife Film Series

The San Diego Audubon Society will launch its winter wildlife film program October 25, with a movie tour of the north woods country of Canada.

Each film of the five-part series will be shown at 8 p.m. in the Roosevelt Junior high school auditorium, 3366 Park blvd. Each will be narrated by a naturalist-photographer, and will deal with a different aspect of the North American wilderness.

A film will be shown each month until April with the exception of December.

The October picture, presented by Chester P. Lyons of British Columbia, will explore the moose, cougar and eagle country of Canada's Pacific Coast. It will roam the five "life zones" of the province, starting with the softwood forests of the Coastal Zone and concluding with the wilderness of the Alpine Zone.

Lyons is a noted nature writer and currently the officer in charge of special projects in British Columbia's Department of Recreation and Conservation.

Season and single admission tickets with special student rates, will be on sale at the door.

Bantams Win, Midgets Sink

Los Toros Football teams, composed of boys from the Valley-Grove area, somehow got their shoe strings tangled last Saturday.

The Los Toros A team was lacerated by Clairemont in a 61-0 game and the Midgets lost to South Bay 20-14.

However, the undefeated Bantams continuing their three game winning streak downed Allied Gardens 14-0.

Los Toros teams again go into action this Saturday, October 19. The Bantams will try to hold their lead when they meet Kearny Mesa at 2:30 p.m. on the Mt. Miguel high school athletic field.

The Pee Wee A team will take on El Cajon at 1 p.m. at Mt. Miguel and the B Pee Wees will play Balboa at 2:30 p.m. at San Diego high school. The Los Toros Midgets will be on a siesta, awaiting their next return to the gridiron.

If you believe in our youth and their desperate need for supervised programs of recreation and guidance, give generously to the 1963 United Community Services Fund campaign. UCS Fund member agencies mold good charactes habits and gide young minds and hands through child and youth organizations.

Fullback Leads Mt. Miguel to Victory

Dave Schroeder, fullback, led Mount Miguel high school to victory last Friday night in a 14-6 game against Granite Hills.

Schoeder, who scored both touchdowns, was assisted by tackle Luther Clark, who kicked both points after touchdown in the second and third quarters.

Mt. Miguel, employing an eagle defense and normal T formation offense, gained seven yards in passing, lost 25 yards in penalties, fumbled thrice and recovered twice.

Granite Hills scored when a pass was intercepted on the 25 yard line. Granite Hills gridders lost 35 yards in penalties, fumbled twice and recovered once.

All Day Jamboree To Mark 'Bowl' Expansion

A gala Western-style opening event for the addition to the Golden Bowl is scheduled for Saturday, October 26 at the firm's expanded facility at 9805 Campo rd., Casa de Oro.

An all-day celebration, which will liven up the festivities at which Golden Bowl operators will show off the Prospect Room, a new party room, 12 new bowling lanes bringing the total to 24, a new ten table pool room, refurnished Nugget cocktail room and the coffee shop.

Miss Casa de Oro, flanked by Supervisor David W. Bird will attend to ribbon cutting ceremonies at 6 p.m., according to Sid Kent, president and manager of the firm.

Kent said a jazz band will play for popular dancers alternating with the western music makers. Balloons and soft drinks will be given to kiddies.

The celebration starts at 9 a.m. and will continue throughout Saturday, until 2 a.m. Sunday.

Some of the features to attract bowlers and billiard players include match games during the day featuring both profession billard players and profession bowlers. Professional instructions also will be given, according to Ray Hollis, bowling manager.

Kent said the firm now employs 20 persons regularly with the opening of the additional facilities.

Golden Bowl opened two years ago and steady growth caused the owners to plan expanding almost a year ago, Kent said.

SPACE CLIMBER — Lemon Grove Woman's Club Juniors recently donated $217 for a four-way space climber that has been installed in Greenspot Park in Lemon Grove. The presentation was made by Mrs. Wayne Chubb, far right, president of the Juniors, and Mrs. Joseph Payson, and daughter, club conservation chairman. Accepting in behalf of San Diego County are Gerald D. Cullison, far left, superintendent of the Division of Parks and Beaches, San Diego County Recreation Department, and Carl A. Swanson, park supervisor, District 3 of the County Park Department. The L.G. Woman's Club Juniors also have raised $1200 for the purchase of a Bekesey audiomenter for the San Diego State College Speech and Hearing Clinic. Nurses To Receive Disacter Training

A 26-hour instructor training course in disaster nursing will be offered in San Diego starting October 18, William B. Marty, County administrative officer for civil defense said today. The course is open only to professional nurses.

Included in the course will be studies of natural and war-caused disaster effects, civil defense concepts, mass casualty care, understanding of fallout shelter medical environment problems and post-fallout period medical problems.

The class will met Oct. 18, 19, 25 and 26 at the Midway Adult high school where advance registration are being received.

'Waiting for Godot' Opens --Continues Thru Saturday

The Griffin players of Grossmont College opened their 1963-64 season Wednesday as the curtain rose on "Waiting for Godot" by Samuel Beckett.

The hit satire will be played through Saturday at 8 p.m. in the El Cajon high school little theatre.

The Griffin Players, who last year started a precedent of presenting unusual European successes with "The Three Penny Opera," continue with "Godot," which ran for 300 performances in Paris.

Beckett, often called the leader of the "absurd" school of modern drama, has posed a provocative and sometimes baffling situation in "Waiting for Godot." Godot never appears, and the entire play is concerned with the conversation of the four men and one boy who are waiting for him. The theme is anyone's guess — possibly that anticipation is always more fruitful than realization.

In the Players' cast are Bill Poshman, Scott Rushing, Richard Wagell, and John Anderson.

Public admission is $1.50. All seats are reserved and may be obtained in advanced by phoning the Student Affairs Office at 465-1700.

Pony League To Play on School Land

SAN DIEGO (CNS)—A special use permit for a Pony League playing field on a lot next to San Miguel school, Lemon Grove, was approved Friday by the County Planning Commission.

George Sacrenty, spokesman for the L.G. Pony League, Inc., said that the league had arranged with the L.G. School District to use the school parking lot, because there was no access to the field other than a 40-foot road easement.

Sacrenty said that Byron Netzley, district superintendent, had been most cooperative with the league in the past and he anticipated no trouble in using the school grounds as access.

SDS Homecoming Features Carnival, Game, Dance

The "1890's" will be the theme of San Diego State's 1963 homecoming. This year the traditional Homecoming celebration has been overhauled by homecoming student chairman Ken Sovay and his committee..

The usual Homecoming Parade and floats will be replaced by a day-long carnival. The emphasis usually placed by campus groups on floats will be turned to house decorations.

Homecoming Week, October 19-26, will begin with the announcement of the five finalists for queen at the October 19 football game against Los Angeles State in the Rose Bowl.

House decorations will be judged the next day and the queen will be announced at a rally October 22.

A bicycle-built-for-two race will highlight an Alumni Rally Thursday. Friday, all college classes will be terminated at 2 p.m. in deference to the Homecoming Carnival.

The Carnival, open to the public, will be held on a campus athletic field at the corner of 55th st. and Montezuma rd. Admission is 50 cents.

In addition to booths, a dance floor will be set up and professional entertainment will be provided. The Carnival is patterned after the UCLA Mardi Gras held each spring.

Griffin Cindermen To Vie in Tough Triangular Meet

By Norman Hutsell

Mickey Shelley is not usually considered as a pessimistic sort of fellow. In fact, the Grossmont College cross country coach would be classed as a strong optimist.

However, this week he is reversing the trend as he fears the Griffins are going to have their toughest triangular meet of the year this Saturday at Cal Western University against Mt. San Antonio and San Bernardino, two of the top harrier units in the Eastern Conference last season.

The reason for his dismal feeling is the fact that he will be absent the services of three of his top nine runners for various reasons.

Jack Hayes, of Mt Miguel, John Rendino from Grossmont and the Griffins fifth man, former El Captan star John Galvin, will be unable to compete leaving the Spring Valley thinclads sorely lacking depth-wise, which always counts heavily in the method of cross country scoring where the more runners that finish in front of the opponent the more points he scores. In cross country, low score wins.

Shelley can find solace in the fact that his top four won't be missing from the meet in which the Griffins will be carrying a spotless triangular meet record.

Bob Johnson, Jack Elmore, Don Phillips and Ed Matheus will all be in the Griffin lineup and should place in the top seven as they have been consistently doing.

The Griffins will be carrying the advantage of meeting on their own home course at Cal Western University with starting time set for 1 p.m.

Astronomy Dept. Sets Open House

San Diego State's department of astronomy will hold open house for the public one evening each month, excluding December, starting October 25.

Guest nights will be held from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., in room PS—208 in the physical sciences building.

Admission is by ticket only. There is no charge for tickets, but requests should be sent no earlier than two weeks before each scheduled guest night to the Astronomy Department, San Diego State. A stamped, self-addressed envelope should accompany the request. There is a limit of five tickets per request.

Dates of the guest nights for the coming year are October 25, November 22, January 24, February 21, March 20, April 17, and May 15.

Talks on popular astronomical subjects will be given. Telescopic observations will be featured when weather conditions permit.

Guest night is designed primarily for adult audiences, but children will be admitted when accompanied by an adult.

Unemployment Talk Set

The paradox of high-level employment accompanied by a jobless rate of 6 per cent will be among the topics discussed by Leavitt S. White, official of the DuPont Company, in a talk at Grossmont College.

White, who is Pacific manager of the DuPont public relations department, will speak on "New Jobs in the 1960's at a college hour October 23 at 3 p.m., and in Room 608 at 8 p.m., the same evening. The public is invited to either session.

White, a graduate of Harvard University, has edited DuPont's magazines, "Better Living" and "DuPont Magazine." For his work in Americanism, he received five George Washington medal awards from Freedoms Foundation of Valley Forge, Pa. During World War II he served in the Navy amphibious forces in the South Pacific.

Paintings Displayed

Paintings by two Grossmont College instructors have been selected for local exhibition.

Twelve paintings by Marj Hyde, art department head, will be shown at the Flea Market West in Old Town, San Diego. Miss Hyde also has works on exhibit at Meanley's in La Jolla and in the Guild Show at the Fine Arts Center in Balboa Park. Most of her paintings are abstracts of the human figure, in different media.

Alvin Hanson, instructor in engineering, art, and architecture, has two oil paintings on exhibit in the first annual Southern California Art Show, now underway in the Jewish Community Center Gallery. Hanson's oils, titled "Reflections" and "Profile Metropol", will be shown through November 1.

Junior College Workshop Plans Being Readied

Grossmont College will be represented fivefold at the fourth annual California Junior College Association workshop on the improvement of instruction.

The workshop, conducted by the curiculum and instruction committee of the CJCA with the aid of the State Department of Education, will be held all day November 7 at Long Beach City College.

The workshop will include the health education, music, and technology areas.

Grossmont College President John S. Hansen is chairman of the planning committee for the conference. Dain of Instruction Charles C. Collins will participate in a panel on the objectives of health education.

Bruce Reagan Will Address L.G. UROC

State Chairman of United Republicans of California former Pasadena Assemblyman Bruce V. Reagan will address the Lemon Grove unit Thursday this week at its monthly meeting.

The meeting open to the public, also will feature Russ Walton Executive Secretary of UROC and will begin at 7:30 at the College Grove Community Hall.

UROC is also open to the active participation of all conservative Jeffersonian Democrats who believe in free enterprise. Senator Jack Schrade and Assemblyman Richard Barnes and Dick Donovan also will be in attendance.

Tom Clabby, Chairman of the Lemon Grove United Republicans said "We intend to give the grass-roots working Republicans who adhere to our principals the opportunity to challenge the CDC in the precincts, on the issues and in the press."

"A donation of 50 cents per person at the door and an urge to cooperate for Republican victory constitute anyone's credentials for admission to this meeting", Clabby said.

EXCHANGE STUDENTS ATTEND HELIX HIGH

Molly Tan from Malaya and Carlos Gonzalos from Spain are the foreign exchange students attending Helix high school this year.

Molly, 17, who has had 11 years of English, graduated from high school last December. After attending Helix she plans to go to college.

She and her American "sister", Paulette Ward, senior, of La Mesa, share a mutual interest in music. Both are accomplished violinists. Dressmaking, painting, playing the organ, tennis, badminton, and swimming are the other fields in which Molly takes an interest.

Carlos, 17, enjoys all kinds of sports, but swimming ranks first. Since baseball or football is not played to any extent in Spain, he is looking forward to participating in these sports while in America.

Carlos' American "brother" is Ron Hott, junior, and his American "sister" is Mary Ann Hott, of La Mesa.

American food and the schedule of the American day seem very strange to him. In Spain, meal times and the evening social hours are much later. Because of the heat, most people do not go to bed until midnight in Spain, he said.

License Plate Covers Illegal

License plate covers are no longer legal in California, Capt. R. Gautsche, commander of the Highway Patrol's San Diego area, said recently.

"A 1963 revision of the Vehicle Code prohibits the use of any covering over a license plate. Previously a covering was acceptable if it had received prior Highway Patrol approval."

The captain pointed out that an addition to the law now specifically provides that license plates must be maintained in a clearly legible condition.

"A vehicle owner is required to clean the plates if mud or any other substance reduces the legibility."

He also reminded motorists of the already existing requirement that nothing obscure a license plate.

"Many people place trailer hitches, for instance, in such a fashion that they block out one or more letters or numerals on the plate.

FIRST PLACE RATING — Mount Miguel high school's yearbook staff won a first-place rating from the National Scholastic Press Association recenty. "It was just 45 points short of being All-American," commented Joyce Hiner, editor-in-chief. Mr. Lowell Plinke, yearbook advisor, said "This rating has not killed our determination to improve Mil Memorias." Returning members of last year's staff are from left to right standing Priscilla Morton, activities editor; Sandie Hodges, ass't. activities editor; Sue Stivers, administration editor; Lowell Plinke, advisor; Susan Bartlett, ass't. senior editor. Seated: Elena Crandall, organizations editor; Joyce Hiner, editor-in-chief; and Pat Lake, senior editor.

Hi Schools Undergoing Accreditation Studies

A detailed analysis of the program at Helix high school is being made by teachers, students, administrators and staff members in a 1963-64 accreditation study.

The study is a continuing process in each of the Grossmont Union High School District's seven schools. The Western Association of Schools and Colleges has established a series of standards to measure each school, granting accreditation for one to five years, depending on how the school scores.

Teachers of Helix high will meet the first deadline in the accrediation study October 25 when they submit survey reports, which will go toward the final report in January. A similar study is being made at Granite Hills high school, which is on a different time schedule and plan of operation.

Helix and Granite Hills will be visited at the end of April by a committee of expert educators selected by the Western Association.

The final accrediation report will include comments on good points of a high school's program, and recommendations to strengthen it.

Results are reported early in the summer. El Capitan, which underwent the study last year, was accredited in June. Future studies are slated at Monte Vista and El Cajon in 1964-65. and at Mount Miguel high in 1965-66.

Two Valley Men Enlist in Army

Two Spring Valley residents entered the U.S. Army recently under its "Choice-Guaranteed-Before-Enlistment" program, according to the Army Recruiting Station in La Mesa.

Enlisting for a three year term were Edward D. Conti, 23, of 1435 Gowin st., who recently was discharged from the U.S. Army and reenlisted for special assignment; and Paul William Gladd, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul G. Gladd, 427 Hotz st., who chose on overseas assignment to Europe.

Gladd was attending Mount Miguel high school prior to enlistment. He is presently at Fort Ord, California, where he is to begin basic military training.

According to M Sgt. Edward R. Edwards, local recruiter, vacancies exist during October for applicants found fully qualified in such fields as air borne, Supply, administration, automotive maintenance, missiles, armor, infantry, artillery, army security agency, military police, overseas assignments, electronics, motor transport, combat engineering, medical and others in the technical schooling and vocational training fields.

Several technical schools and vocational choices are available for young women enlisting for three years, Sergeant Edwards said.

For more information about the U.S. Army's "Choice-Not-Chance" program, interested persons can visit the recruiting station at 8101 La Mesa blvd., or call 463-3114 for an interview appointment.

Five Area Youths Enlist in Army

Five area young men recently enlisted in the U.S. Army under its "Choice-Guaranteed-Before-Enlistment" program.

Those enlisting and their choices are Ronald T. Dudney, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald W. Dudney, 3441 Grove st., Lemon Grove, AirBorne; Richard L. Norris, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl R. Norris, 10102 Norte Mesa dr., Spring Valley, who chose AirBorne along with David S. White, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd M. White, 10080 Cristobal dr., Spring Valley.

Two other young men from Spring Valley enlisting were David L. Clark, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Clark, 9269 Carthay cl., choosing Automotive Maintenance, and James H. Franceschi, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred F. Franceschi, 3458 Ybarra rd., who selected Combat Engineering.

All young men enlisted for three years and are presently at Fort Ord, California where they are to begin their basic military training. After necessary training, they will be assigned to their choices under the Army's written guarantee program.

According to MSgt. Edward R. Edwards, area recruiter, choice vacancies exist during September. Such popular choices as airborne, medical, administration, automotive maintenance, motor transport, telephone, armor, infantry, artillery, military police, missiles, electronics, photography, combat engineering, overseas assignments, and others as a first-come first serve basis. Many wonderful opportunities are also offered to young women interested in Army career, he said.

For more further information, young men and women can visit the recruiting station at 8101 La Mesa blvd. in La Mesa or phone 463-3114.

Draft Exemption Of Married Men Helps Bachelors

Single men receive the benefits resulting from exemption of married men from draft according to M. Sgt. Edward R. Edwards, US Army recruiter of the La Mesa Army Recruiting Station.

"Prior to the Executive Order, by President Kennedy, many married men enlisted in the Regular Army to attend technical schools and receive assignments in vocational fields of their own choosing. These assignments, guaranteed in writing before enlistment, are available only to Regular Army personnel.

"Since married men no longer are subject to the draft, there are very few enlisting in the Regular Army to obtain their choice of school and technical training. This has resulted in a decided benefit to single men still subject to induction. Single men, now no longer in competition with married men in such large numbers, can more readily apply and receive choice assignments in the Regular Army.

"Vacancies in the more popular technical schools and fields are less limited and quotas will be filled largely with single Regular Army enlistees.

"Though married men are exempt from induction, they are still eligible for Regular Army enlistment if they have no children," Edwards said.

SV Family Visits Both Sides of Berlin Wall

By David Lewis

"When we went to East Berlin we had to get a new guide — a communist," said Kris Eckert, Mount Miguel high school junior.

Accompanying Kris to Germany during the summer were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Eckert, 3563 Hartzel dr., Spring Valley, and her sister Linda, also a Mount Miguel student.

Remaining five weeks, the Eckerts visited relatives on both sides of the Berlin wall. "It's awfully tragic. We saw the graves along the wall," Kris said.

Visit East Berlin

Although the Eckerts have relatives on both sides of the wall, they were only allowed to tour the city by bus. However they were allowed to see their grandparents in East Germany. "In East Germany we couldn't leave the city. We had to report to the police when we wanted to go somewhere," emphasized Linda.

Speaks to Communist

While in East Germany Kris spoke with a comunist about philosophy and religion. In doing so, related Kris, he tried to convince her there wasn't a God and that Americans want war. She also learned that Russian school children are required to study English.

Lighter moments of the trip included rowing on Lake Staffel, touring medieval castles along the Rhine and browsing through the Zwinger museum at Dresden. At the museum Kris was particularly impressed by Rafael's renowned painting "Sistine Madonna."

Sees Ulbright

What was the most interesting part of the trip? Kris enjoyed hiking in the Alps while Linda was most excited at seeing East German Dictator, Walter Ulbricht, at a sports rally.

In noting the differences between East Germany and the United States, Kris and Linda said that a car comparable to a Volkswagon would cost $17,000, eggs were priced at 44 cents each and coffee sold for $10.

Future plans for Linda are undecided, but Kris, who loves the Alps, hopes to return to Bavaria some day to study music.

Building, Banking Business Booming

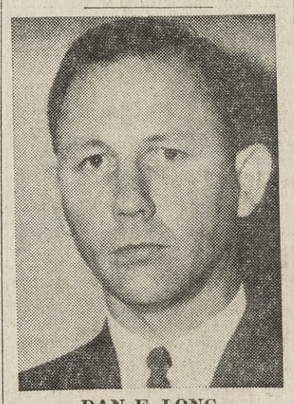
Southern California's booming business activity continued at record levels in September, rising nearly nine per cent above a year ago, according to Harold E. Holsonback, manager of Security First National Bank's College Grove Branch.

As the week ended September 27, the bank's business index stood at 134.8 (preliminary), compared with 134.1 in August, and 124 in September, 1962, Holsonback said.

Construction activity and bank clearings were the leading business components of the index for the month. Both registered substantial gains after adjustment for seasonal influences.

Also showing a substantial rise were department store sales. Real Estate transfers declined from the record summer peak. The bank's Research Department's report noted that total volume of construction activity in the Southland so far this year is running 14 per cent higher than last year's record, Holsonback stated.

Statistical data for the first nine months of 1963 indicate that, if the present rate continues, industry will achieve a $4-1/2 billion record for the current year. According to Holsonback, principal contributor to the advance is the residential construction, which is operating at a dollar level 25 per cent ahead of the last year.



DAN F. LONG
Administrative Intern

L.G. Teacher In Texas U. Pilot Program

Dan F. Long, who taught the 5th-6th grades at San Altos school last year, is one of 14 University of Texas graduates to be accepted this fall as an intern in an experimental program designed to produce outstanding educational administators for Texas public schools.

The 12 month internship is the second part of a two-year program which provides intensive preparation for prospective school principals, personnel and curriculum directors, supervisors, business managers and assistant superintendents.

The first year program leads to the completion of a masters' degree in teaching. The second year emphasizes practical administrative experience for interns and results in a professional administrator's certificate.

Clothing Drive, Scout Rally Set

Plans for the annual Good Turn for Goodwill clothing collection drive in the county will be outlined for Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Explorers units of the Grossmont District at a training rally October 30.

Hal Rover, district Good Turn chairman, said the rally would start at 7:30 p.m. and would be held at the Lemon Avenue school, 8787 Lemon ave., La Mesa.

Each unit planning to participate in this community service project should have an adult representative in attendance at the rally, he said.

Materials will be distributed at the rally for the Good Turn for Goodwill, which is scheduled for November 2-9.

The Good Turn activity is used by the Boy Scouts of America as a unit program opportunity for "positive, practical training in citizenship and duty to others", the chairman said.

On November 2, Scouts throughout the county will distribute 2000,000 Goodwill bags, house to house, under the direction of the San Diego County Council of Rotary Clubs, which is sponsoring the service event.

On november 9, the Scouts will return to the homes to hand out litter bags provided by the War Against Litter Committee and pick up the filled Goodwill bags.

Approximately 271,109 pounds of clothing was collected for repair by handicapped workers at Goodwill.

Participating with the Scouts will be the local chapter of the California Trucking Association which will provide tucks and volunteers of Teamsters Local 542 to bring the filled bags to Goodwill warehouses.

Teams from the Naval Training Center and the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, under supervision of Rotarians, will unload the trucks.
